

Notes from Mock-Up Review: Poker!

Creative Director: May Wang

Designer: Jaime Lee

- Great approach for the early versions of each mock-up, I can clearly see which direction each is going in.
 - So far, the imagery and color scheme in mock-up A seems more effective and readable.
 - Organizational elements of mock-up B (the card shuffling and information) are more interesting
- For the next round - try combining the aesthetic of mock-up A with the system design of mock-up B
- Also experiment with various cover images for ideal formatting
